the struggle for the Daynes challenge cup.

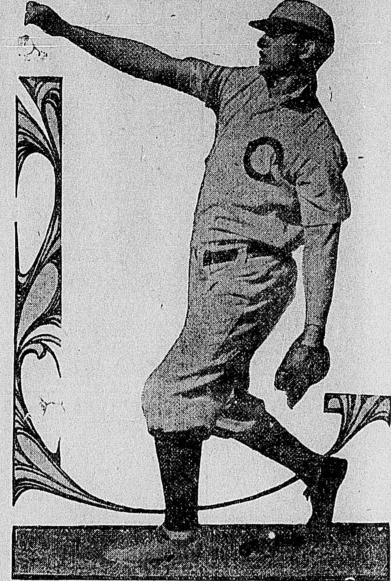

In the game at Lagoon the Eureka players started out from the first with a determination to win and the Eurekaltes did not lose one opportunity to keep their opponents down while they piled up score after score. The winning players showed excellent team work throughout while Park City was lacking in this respect. The Salt Lakers are now working hard to prepare for the game with Eureka and expect to land the cup although the Eureka team has the better chance.

OCCIDENTALS IN BAD.

PITCHER REULBACH OF THE CUBS, WHO MAY FIGURE IN TRADE SHORTLY.

Big Ed Reulbach of Chicago for Harry McIntyre of the Brooklyns-that's the latest dope in the line of trades now circulating through the camp of the world's champion Cubs. President Murphy is touted as the official behind the deal which may send the celebrated pitcher to Brooklyn in exhange for Manager Harry Lumley's mighty right hand twirler. Reulbach has been unable to acquire anything like ordinary control thus far in the season, and Manager Frank Chance is said to be strongly in favor of the proposed change. Reulbach when right is one of the greatest pitchers in the business, but he is useless for the first three months of the season, and on that account the Cub officials think a more valuable man can be secured, one who can be depended upon to work an entire season. Reulbach led the list of winning pitchers in 1906-7-8.

Brannon's Horse Runs to Form and Bookles Are Badly Hit-Poor Showing by Fore.

There were two noticeable features at the race track Saturday afternoon. One was the victory of Booger Red, Brannon's horse, in the fourth race, when he won the Tintic handleap, and the other was the poor showing by Fore, other was the poor showing by Fore, favorite in the last race.

The program was an excellent one throughout and a brilliant audience watched the races. The books certainly did not make any money on the day's proceedings, due largely to the vast amount placed on Booger Red, which horse had a slim chance in the opinion of the books. But the Brannon horse had a nice little exercise gallop and romped home a winner.

The books made something up in the last race when Fore, the heavily played favorite, with Sullivan up, made a most miserable showing. Sullivan does not stand any too well and his showing was not of the kind to please. Another heavily played favorite was Halton and he won with little trouble. In the first race there was generous play on both Cardinal Sarto and Valencia, the latter the books were nearly even.

In the second event it was a choice between Dora Payne and Charles J. Harvey, the latter getting most of the play perhaps, but Dora Payne won handily with Harvey second and Sea Green third. Faneuil Hall upset calculations in the third as George Guyton and Old Nick were well played but Hall won. A summary of the eyents follows:

First Race—

Valencia, 4 to 5, won.

Cardinal Sarto, 3 to 5, place, second. Kopek, 3 to 5 show, third.

Third Race—

Dora Payne, 2 to 1, won.

Charles J, Harvey, 3 to 5 place, second. Sea Green, out show, third.

Third Race—

Halton, 3 to 2, won.

Fifth Race—

RING BADLY HIT AT WOODBINE COURSE

Diefenbacher posted $2 on a protest maker on the last of the many delusions fervently held by those who know little of the turf or its workings. "A well-informed and long-experienced layer of odds, who does to the forestid state of the result in the mark when I say that the ring guit the Woodbine meeting $20,000 loser. Forty-nine per cent of the public choices landed the money and you know what that means to the bookmaker. San Finak, and the many series on the last day, died the odds I usiness on the last day, and the matter was referred to cording the seven. > GOOD SCORES MADE IN PISTOL CONTEST

A pistol shooting contest of great interest took place Saturday afternoon at Fort Douglas between officers teams from the Fifteenth infantry, the national guard and the state prison guards. The contest was witnessed by Gov. William Spry, Col. H. E. Booth, Col. W. E. Wright, Col. R. A. Badger, Col. J. J. Daynes, members of his staff, Capt. Joseph E. Caine, Col. Scott, commanding the Fifteenth U. S. infantry and Warden Arthur Pratt of the Utah state prison.

The Pifteenth won with the prison guards second and the national guard third. For the latter Capt. Webb was the star, making 48 out of a possible the star, making 46 out of a possible to at 50 yards. The snoot was the first of the kind ever held here and more will follow as there is great interest in pistol shooting. The next will be held July 3 at the state prison. AMATEUR CHOOSES FINE. Diefenbacher Suspended by Officials

And Voluntarily Pays Money.

With reference to the statement that amateur bicycle riders are fined by N. C. A. officials, Frank L. Gardner, local representative of the N. C. A., and a member of the board of control, denies that such actoin was taken by the officials here. The statement was made that "as a matter of fact R. Diefenhacher was fined $25 last season by the N. C. A. referee here."

"As a matter of fact R. Diefenhacher was fined $25 last season by the N. C. A. referee here."

"As a matter of fact," the rider was suspended for the meet by the referee and later the N. C. A. representative, Mr. Gardner, suspended the rider for 30 days. Diefenbacher posted $2 on a protest and the matter was referred to Chairman Kelsey. In the meantime, according to Mr. Gardner, Diefenbacher asked the privilege of paying $25 and have the suspension raised. His offer was accepted and the money sent to the proper officials. Later M. Kelsey, chairman, wrote to Mr. Gardner, saying that amateurs should not be fined but, inasmuch as Diefenbacher had voluntarily proffered the $25 it would be acceptable under those conditions.

The $2 posted by Diefenbacher on the protest was a part of the $25 which he offered to pay in place of suspension. So, it will be seen from this, that the amateur was not fined by the N. C. A., but was suspended and his offer to pay the amount stated in place of suspension was accepted. And Voluntarily Pays Money.

W. W. FINN STRIKES

James Hanby Ruled Off Track-Man-Chriticism-Warrant Issued.

the Kenyon hotel Saturday evening in which W. W. Finn, general manager of the Utah Jockey club, and Thomas F. Rooney, a newspaper man, who has been doing some work for a local paper and who corresponded with a Boise paper, were principals. Others were mixed up in the fracas, namely, W. H. Gleason, treasurer of the club, and Jay Davidson, associate judge.

The trouble was the outgrowth of criticisms said to have been, made by Rooney in the papers and remerks he is alleged to have made reflecting upon Finn. During the races Saturday Presiding Judge P. P. Pomeroy called Rooney into the judges stand and talked to him about the criticisms. Rooney made no reply. Later James Hanby, who did the press work for W. M. Murray at Ogden, and who has acted in a similar capacity for various jockey clubs throughout the country, was ruled off the track, his badge taken away and he was escorted out of the grounds.

Hamby had been accused of furnishing local newspapermen with information about the races which, reflected upon the club. This he denied and he seleured a signed statement from each of the sporting writers of the daily papers stating that he had in no way influenced their reports. But he was ruled off.

After the races, Rooney was talking to Judge Jay Ogyasan in fraytal which W. W. Finn, general manager of off.

After the races, Rooney was talking to Judge Jay Davidson in front of the Kenyon hotel, when Manager Finn walked up and demanded:

"Do you think you have anything on me?" Finn repeated the question and Rooney made reply that it was no place to discuss the matter. Then Finn struck Rooney on the jaw, Treasurer Gleason rushed in between the men and seized Rooney, getting between him and Finn while Judge Davidson dragged Finn away.

ROONEY'S STATEMENT. ROONEY'S STATEMENT.

Rooney made the following statement the affair to the "News" this morn-Rooney made the following statement of the affair to the "News" this morning:

"I was standing talking to associate Judge Davidson," said Mr. Rooney today, "when Finn approached me and asked me if I had anything 'on' him. I told him that the public streets was no place to discuss matters of that kind. Without warning he shot his fist at me while I had my hands on my hips and was entirely surprised at such conduct.

"As I attempted to defend myself Gleason jumped in front of me while Davidson attempted to drag Finn away. Gleason put out both his hands in front of me and then Finn kicked at me from behind Gleason, who was shielding him. "When Finn had been taken away by Judge Davidson, Gleason remained behind to tell me that what I had received from Finn he heartily approved of and that he had saved me from getting further chastisement. I told Gleason that I didn't care to discuss that matter with him on the street any more than I did with Finn. He persisted in telling me what was coming to me and that I deserved all I got."

Manager Finn does not deny that he struck Rooney but denies kicking him. He says that Rooney bad made Insulting remarks about him and had declared he (Rooney) had something on Finn.

Treasurer Gleason made the following statement:

"When Finh learned that Rooney had."

he (Rooney) had something on Finn.

Treasurer Gleason made the following statement:

"When Finh learned that Rooney had said he had something on Finn, the latter started toward the newspaper man. I begged Finn not to do anything hastlly and when he asked Rooney if the latter had made the statements credited to him and Rooney replied that he had. Finn hit him—he only hit him once. I immediately got in between them and prevented Rooney from receiving a bad beating. Davidson took Finn away. The statement that Finn kicked Rooney is false. Rooney did not get half what he disserved."

Judge Jay Davidson, to whom Rooney was talking at the time of the attack, said: "Rooney had just made some statements to me about Finn and used some rather bad language toward him, making accusations and saying he 'had it on him.' Finn demanded to know of Rooney what it was and then he struck Rooney on the law. Mr. Gleason seized Rooney and I dragged Finn away. Finn did not kick Rooney."

STATEMENT OF HANBY.

STATEMENT OF HANBY.

STATEMENT OF HANBY.

"Jimmy" Hanby declares that he aruosed the ire of the association because he got horses for the Ögden meet from California ahead of the Salt Lake meeting. He claims he beat the local association to Los Angeles and signed up horses for the Ogden meeting and got horses from Salt Lake that Finn was trying to keep here.

Hanby met Judge Pomeroy and Press Representative McDonald in the office of the Inter-Mountain Republican last night and asked him to deny to the newspapermen present that he, Hanby, had circulated stories against the racing association. Pomeroy, he says, failed to make a reply.

Hanby has written denials from all of the newspapermen who have been covering the races since the meeting opened. They are of the one opinion that they are able to see for themselves and do not rely on information from second-hand sources. Hanby said this morning:

"Mr. Finn gave out a statement to the second-hand sources, riamy said this morning:

"Mr. Finn gave out a statement to the effect that I was ruled off because I had gone among the horsemen and had invited them to ship their horses to Butte for the Butte meeting and that I had secured about 300 horses for that purpose. To this I plead guilty, but is that any reason why I should be ruled off?"

AERIAL BALLET OPENS.

Grigolati's Big Attraction Due for Long Run at Saltair.

Saltair is certainly making a big bid in the amusement line this season with some attractions furnished by Martin Beck, which are Orpheum circuit headliners. Saturday night a large audi-ence witnessed the initial production of Grigolati's aerial ballet. Despite the fact that the big bleyele track was in the process of transformation to a theater, the lighting was defective and the big orchestra of 23 pieces under the direction of J. J. McClellan "went on" without a repearest the performon" without a rehearsal, the performance was voted a success. Two acts constitute the bill, while in an adjacent structure, Jewels Mannikins, another Orpheum headliner, are making their summer home on the lake. There were strenuous times around Saltair for four strenuous times around Saltair for four days prior to the opening and Manager Winch managed to snatch seven hours' sleep during that period. Five minutes before the opening, he, General Manager Langford and Joseph Nelson capped the climax on their work by lifting a score of balks of timber out of the way to clear the track for the rush.

Tonight the theater will be finished, the orchestra will be in fine fettle and the entire performance should be a win-ner. The dancing sextet which opens ner. The dancing sextet which opens the bill is one of the liveliest and most hardworking yet seen on any local stage. Their turn is handsomely staged and the costumes are up to the Or pheum standard, which is invariably excellent.

The aerial ballet is not new, but it In all the same of the same of the same of the novelties introduced is the setting loose of a flock of white doves which fly around the stage and alight on the heads and shoulders of the men.

Grigolati is the pioneer of the arrial ballot and his troupe has for years been one of the features of the big ballets at the Drury Lane pantomimes in London. He came to the Orpheum circuit from the New York Hippodrome circuit from the New York Hippodrome and closed in Los Angeles a few days ago. The troupe was on its way through to Chicago when Martin Beck wired for them to fill in 10 weeks at Saltair. The management proposes to change the bill at Saltair at intervals. Two performances will be given daily.

McClellan's orchestra is a big feature at the resort this season, in fact Saltair seems to have the corner on the musicians this year, there being something like 70 instrumentalists employed in the theater, dance hall and restaurant.
